

Narrative writing: Children rule

Grade 4 Writing Worksheet

Write a story about a world where children rule. What kind of world would this be? How would the children handle the responsibilities of running a society? Would there be any challenges to this new world order? Write about the adventures of one child who becomes a leader in this new society.

Remember to use descriptive language and vivid imagery to bring your adventures to life!

First, plan your narrative:

Characters: Who is this story about?	Setting: When and where does this story take place?
Beginning
Middle
End
